

Gun Violence Prevention Challenge Summit & Hack-a-thon

April 13 – 15, 2018 | Boston, Massachusetts

Ruhi is the Senior Manager of Legislative Research at Everytown for Gun Safety and her team provides research support to the organization's state and federal legislative campaigns in the country. She grew up in Mumbai, India and moved to New York City nearly 5 years ago. Prior to Everytown, Ruhi worked in the research team at New American Economy, a nonprofit focusing on immigration reform. Ruhi has also done stints in the NYC Mayor's Office, the NYC Department of Housing Preservation and Development, and as an organizer for anti-poverty campaign, The Borgen Project. She has two graduate degrees—an MSc in Development Economics from University of London and a MPA in Public Policy from NYU.